ACTING CEO REVIEW

Immediately after I took over as acting CEO at Vivesto in July, I began a thorough review of the entire business. All of Vivesto's assets and projects have been reviewed and evaluated from both a scientific and financial perspective. Our work is currently focused on three main areas: to further strengthen the research portfolio, to increase the value of existing projects and technology platforms, and to further trim our costs in order to be able to use a greater part of our resources to build and run our research portfolio.

After the initial review, it is clear that, just as previously assumed, our formulation technology should be able to be used with significantly more drugs than just paclitaxel. As part of the work to strengthen Vivesto's research portfolio, we have identified a number of different substances, with patent protection, or without patent protection, so-called generic substances, which could be formulated with our technology and offer patients important treatment benefits.

Within modern pharmaceutical chemistry, a strong trend has been seen for several years towards new molecules becoming larger and more difficult to dissolve than before. These molecules often have higher specificity and effect, that is, they are more effective than previous generations of drug substances. In addition, they often address a new category of targets previously unknown to science, or previously not considered possible to develop into useful drugs. I am convinced that Vivesto's formulation technology can be valuable for numerous molecules that today cannot be used due to lack of solubility, including molecules with remaining patent protection. We will therefore systematically, with the help of artificial intelligence, neural networks and other applicable technology, search for such opportunities with the aim of establishing collaborations with other pharma companies. In this way, we could grow our portfolio with more value-generating projects and strengthen Vivesto's position as a drug developer.

Our existing development projects and products form the basis of Vivesto, and we work intensively to increase the value of existing assets. There are several ways to increase the value of a project/molecule. The clinical plan is reviewed continuously with the aim of finding out whether it is possible to make minor changes in study setup or study design to strengthen the chances of success or shorten the time to market-approved drug. Another way is to evaluate the substance within other indications in order to broaden the target group and increase the future market potential. We are currently working on both of these strategies for our clinical cancer program Cantrixil and hope to strengthen the value of the project in this way.

Another high-priority area for Vivesto is to build a larger and stronger IP portfolio around our proprietary formulation technology. It was therefore very satisfying that we in September were able to submit a patent application for the XR-18 to the Swedish Patent and Registration Office.

As previously announced, our market-approved product Apealea was launched in Germany in August this year. The launch took place through our partner Elevar and its European partner Inceptua. This is an important milestone as it is the first time that Apealea has been launched commercially in a larger market. We are in close contact with Elevar to follow how sales develop in Germany and how the launch plans progress in other markets. We cannot provide any sales figures at this time, but we hope to be able to do so during the first half of 2023.

In addition, we can also report that the investigator-initiated phase 1b study evaluating Docetaxel micellar in patients with metastatic prostate cancer, conducted in Switzerland by the Swiss Group for Clinical Cancer Research (SAKK), continues to enroll patients. More than half of the patients are included and according to SAKK's assessment the recruitment can be completed during the next year. Results are expected in 2024.

Vivesto has previously received a conditional approval in the USA for the veterinary drug Paccal Vet, our formulation of paclitaxel for the treatment of cancer in dogs. For strategic reasons, the process was not completed, and the drug was therefore withdrawn from the market. The market for companion animals is now facing rapid growth, while there are currently very few approved drugs for cancer in dogs. With a solid research foundation and significant in-house expertise in the field, we are reviewing the possibilities of continuing development in veterinary medicine and, if deemed appropriate, preparing for further studies in selected indications.

During the roughly four months I have been acting CEO at Vivesto, I have gained a very good insight into the company's operations. I am impressed by the development work that is being carried out and I see significant potential in both the company's assets and its dedicated employees. The role as acting CEO has always been intended to be of a temporary nature and at the end of November I will move on to a new position outside of the company. I now look forward to continuing to contribute to Vivesto's development as a senior advisor within R&D on a consulting basis.

Christer Nordstedt, acting CEO of Vivesto

ABOUT VIVESTO

Vivesto is an oncology-focused specialty pharmaceutical company that develops new treatment options for patients suffering from difficult-to-treat cancer. The company has a portfolio of projects targeting innovative cancer treatments and the capacity to develop drugs from early research to regulatory approval. Late clinical-phase and commercial development is carried out individually or in partnership with other pharmaceutical companies.

Apealea® (paclitaxel micellar) is being made available to ovarian cancer patients through a partnership with Elevar Therapeutics, Inc. Development programs include Cantrixil, in clinical development for late-stage ovarian cancer, and docetaxel micellar, in development for advanced prostate cancer. Vivesto has developed proprietary drug delivery technologies designed to improve solubility of various active pharmaceutical ingredients.

Vivesto's shares are traded on Nasdaq Stockholm (VIVE). To find out more about Vivesto please visit www.vivesto.com.

TECHNOLOGY PLATFORMS

The foundation for Vivesto is the proprietary drug delivery technology XR-17™, a technology platform that can improve aqueous solubility for intravenous active pharmaceutical ingredients to improve their efficacy and safety. The technology has been successfully applied when developing Vivesto's most advanced product, Apealea. Development is currently ongoing for developing the next-generation drug delivery platform, XR-18.

XR-17™ Technology

XR-17 is Vivesto's proprietary drug delivery technology and is based on a blend of two isomers of a synthetic derivative of vitamin-A acid (XMeNa and 13XMeNa), which can solubilize compounds with poor aqueous solubility, such as paclitaxel. XR-17 demonstrates amphiphile properties since its molecules contain both hydrophilic and hydrophobic structural regions. As a result, XR-17 molecules can spontaneously form nanosized structures, known as micelles, within aqueous environments. During the process hydrophobic substances are dissolved in the XR-17 micelles.

XR-18 Technology

When developing Apealea and other projects using the XR-17 technology platform, Vivesto has built up valuable knowledge and understanding of how solubility and drug delivery can be improved in pharmaceutical molecules with solubility and delivery challenges. Based on this experience, Vivesto is developing the next generation of drug delivery technology, XR-18, which is an expanded and improved version of the XR-17 technology.

XR-18 is currently in an early development phase and has delivered promising results so far in terms of formulations employing new APIs. In early 2022, Vivesto announced that progress had been made in the internal development of XR-18 and that the company had identified and formulated promising compounds for further development. A patent application is filed for XR-18.

Exploratory Research

Vivesto is engaged in a project to investigate the biologic effects of its product candidates and technology platform variants, XR-17 and XR-18, leading to the quantification of cellular effects on target cells, initially in cancer indications, to create a screening tool for future development. This project is currently carried out with Visikol, Inc. in the USA and Vivesto hope to report new developments in the future.

PRODUCTS & PROJECT PORTFOLIO

Vivesto has a portfolio of projects in clinical and commercial phases that are intended to treat late-stage, hard-to-treat cancer. The drug Apealea was developed for patients with ovarian cancer and is scheduled to be launched in selected European markets under Inceptua's responsibility. Vivesto's development program includes Cantrixil, a clinical cancer program, and Docetaxel micellar for metastatic prostate cancer.

Apealea

Apealea (paclitaxel micellar) is a patented solvent-free formulation: it applies paclitaxel – a cornerstone within chemotherapy for many different forms of cancer – through Vivesto's XR-17 technology platform. Apealea is approved by the European regulatory authority, the EMA, for use in combination with carboplatin for the treatment of adult patients with first relapse of platinum-sensitive epithelial ovarian cancer, primary peritoneal cancer and fallopian tube cancer. Apealea has also received orphan drug designation from the US regulatory authority FDA for the treatment of epithelial ovarian cancer, which could entail several potential benefits, including seven years of market exclusivity.

Status of partnerships

Elevar

Vivesto signed a global strategic partnership with US-based Elevar Therapeutics for the commercialization of Apealea in March 2020. Elevar has signed a license agreement with Inceptua Group for the commercialization of Apealea in Europe.

In December 2021 the transfer of the marketing authorization for Apealea from Vivesto to Inceptua was approved by from the European Commission and the UK Medicines and Healthcare products Regulatory Agency (MHRA).

In August 2022 Inceptua announced that they had launched Apealea in Germany.

FarmaMondo

In September 2021, Vivesto entered into an agreement with the Swiss FarmaMondo for commercialization purposes of Paclical (Apealea) in Russia and CIS countries. Following the Russian invasion of Ukraine, ongoing hostilities and international sanctions, Vivesto has decided to wind down its activities in Russia. This means that the distribution activities for Paclical (Apealea) in Russia and CIS countries are paused until further notice.

Cantrixil

Cantrixil is a clinical-stage product that consists of the active molecule, a potent and selective third generation benzopyran SMETI inhibitor named TRXE-002-01, encapsulated in a cyclodextrin. It is believed to target a wide spectrum of cancer cells, including chemotherapy-resistant tumor-initiating cells that are thought to be responsible for disease relapse.

Status

An upcoming clinical trial with Cantrixil is being prepared and Vivesto is currently working with clinical and regulatory experts to design the trial. The first part of this work was developing testing material for the coming clinical trials. In March, Vivesto announced that the company had signed a large-scale manufacturing agreement with Lonza, a global development and manufacturing partner to the pharma, biotech and nutrition industries, for the main drug intermediate in the supply of clinical material for Cantrixil.

Docetaxel micellar

Docetaxel micellar is a product candidate in early clinical development and is a novel formulation that combines XR-17 with docetaxel – a well-established cytotoxin, currently administered intravenously and containing ethanol. In June 2020, Vivesto partnered with the Swiss Group for Clinical Cancer Research (SAKK) with the aim of conducting the first clinical study on the treatment of metastasized prostate cancer with Vivesto's Docetaxel micellar formulation.

Status

Docetaxel micellar is being evaluated in an instigator-initiated Phase 1b trial in patients with metastasized prostate cancer. In February Vivesto announced that the first patient had fully completed the study. About half of the patients are now recruited to the study and recruitment is expected to be completed in H1 2023.

VETERINARY MEDICINE

Vivesto's product candidates within veterinary medicine use the XR-17 technology platform to facilitate the administration of intravenously delivered solvent-free active pharmaceutical ingredients. Vivesto is currently evaluating strategic/commercial alternatives for the company's assets within veterinary medicine operations.

Paccal Vet

Paccal Vet utilizes Vivesto's formulation of paclitaxel with its XR-17 encapsulation technology for the treatment of canine mastocytoma. Vivesto intends to carry out a study together with reputable experts in the field in order to evaluate the possibilities for further development of Paccal Vet.

Doxophos Vet

Doxophos Vet is a patented formulation of doxorubicin, one of the most efficacious and widely used chemotherapeutic substances for the treatment of cancer. Vivesto has developed Doxophos Vet for the treatment of lymphoma, one of the most frequent forms of canine cancer. Pre-clinical and earlier clinical studies have been conducted on dogs with cancer. In the first attempt, Doxophos Vet showed promising efficacy against hematological tumors. The development program is currently on hold, awaiting further strategic decisions.

Warrants and other instruments outstanding that can increase the number of shares in Vivesto

	No. of options	Max. No. of shares	Subscription price, interval
Warrants which can be converted to three shares	1,280,250	3,840,750	4.06	USD
Employee stock options which can be converted to one share	450,000	450,000	1.45	SEK
Max. No. of shares		450,000

Warrants which can be converted to three shares refer to warrants issued in 2015 with a maturity date of October 28, 2025. One warrant gives one right to subscribe for three shares at the subscription price of USD 4.06.

The Extraordinary General Meeting on May 25, 2022, approved an employee stock option program directed to senior executives. The program encompasses not more than 2,700,000 options, of which 450,000 have been issued to individuals in senior positions. These options entitle, after vesting in accordance with the terms and conditions, the participant to subscribe for an equal number of shares at an exercise price of SEK 1.45 during the period from and including July 1, 2024 until and including

September 30, 2025 subject to the precondition that the holder remains in the company's employ for three years.

During the period, the individuals in senior positions who received options pursuant to the previous option program announced that their employment at the company had ceased, forfeiting their options and terminating the program. This entailed a negative impact of TSEK 1,798 on equity.

Legal information and additional information

As regards the company's legal proceedings, nothing of material import has taken place during the period.

War in Ukraine

On February 24, 2022, Russia launched a military invasion of Ukraine. The situation in Eastern Europe has led to a great deal of volatility in the global economy and the global credit markets, which can have a negative impact on Vivesto in both the short and long term. On July 5, 2022, Vivesto announced that the company had decided to wind down its activities in Russia following the Russian invasion of Ukraine, ongoing hostilities and international sanctions. This means that the distribution activities for Paclical® (Apealea®) in Russia and the Commonwealth of Independent States (CIS) will be paused until further notice (for more information, refer to Other customer contracts on page 64 of the 2021 Annual Report). It is unclear if, and if so when, commercialization for Paclical® (Apealea) can begin again in these markets. There is also a risk that the situation in Eastern Europe will affect other markets where Vivesto is active, particularly if the conflict escalates further, continues for a long period of time or spreads to other countries. However, the business impact is difficult to predict due to uncertain market conditions. The wind down of Vivesto's activities in Russia means that a write down of MSEK 44.6 has been carried out in the third quarter (July 2022), equal to the net book value of the capitalized development costs for Paclical® after amortization as of June 30, 2022.

Parent Company

The Parent Company's net sales for the period amounted to TSEK 1,015 (16,553) and profit/loss before tax was TSEK -136,602 (-134,274). ## Review report

Vivesto AB (publ)

Corp. id. 556332-6676

Introduction

We have reviewed the condensed interim financial information (interim report) of Vivesto AB (publ) as of 30 September 2022 and the nine-month period then ended. The Board of Directors and the Managing Director are responsible for the preparation and presentation of this interim report in accordance with IAS 34 and the Annual Accounts Act. Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this interim report based on our review.

Scope of review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements ISRE 2410 Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity. A review of interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and other generally accepted auditing practices and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the interim report is not prepared, in all material respects, for the Group in accordance with IAS 34 and the Annual Accounts Act, and for the Parent Company in accordance with the Annual Accounts Act.
